

AFMA FACT SHEET

COVID-19 / CORONA VIRUS PRECAUTIONS FOR MARKET MANAGERS

With ongoing major international concern about Covid-19 (Coronavirus) and the Australian Government announcing revised measures to address the risks of the pandemic AFMA would like to draw your attention to some key best practice principles for ensuring health and safety at your farmers market.

Farmers markets are essential sources of fresh healthy food. Under the current Federal Government advice farmers markets continue to be classified as essential food supply as distinct from other public gatherings or events and may continue to trade mindful of all other public health recommendations.

The government public health authorities have further amended permissible behaviours. The latest Federal announcements forecast three future stages but no time frames have been announced, and implementation is being left to the state governments. This will necessarily mean a lack of national consistency. The Three-Stage recovery provisions do not in any way change the current recommendations pertaining to farmers markets; current family group rules have been slightly relaxed for home visits, not for outdoor activity.

Best advice suggests farmers market shopping should still be conducted by one family member and market managers must ensure social distancing of 1.5m between shoppers outdoors; 4sqm per person in an indoor space. ie 25 pax (inc stallholders) in an 100sqm premises.

AFMA recommends adherence to these numbers for all farmers markets. Shopper flow should be managed to meet the required safe health procedures at markets. 'Shop and Go' is also recommended. Buy what you need and then head home. Tap and Go cashless purchasing is also recommended. The reduced shopping duration, typically less than 30 minutes outdoors, also serves to reduce risk.

It is important to be aware of all the possible preventative actions that can help minimize the spread of disease in farmers markets. The measures suggested are basic and sensible. Remember shopping in the fresh air for farm-grown food is one sure way of staying healthy!

AFMA wishes to convey to market managers, stallholders and shoppers the need to consider the health of your fellow market-goers.

Transmission via hands, sneezing and human contact is the most common route of infection, just as for colds and flu. Anti-bacterial handwash, and hand washing with soap (for 20 seconds or more) is effective and needs to be practised more regularly than usual, whether you are a stallholder or shopper. Wash hands before heading to the market, sanitize at stalls, and wash hands at home.

The following recommended actions have been updated in accordance with any revised government public health advisories.

RECOMMENDED PRECAUTIONARY ACTIONS

- Markets are required to provide handwashing facilities. In addition, it is recommended that anti-bacterial handwash be supplied at focal locations in the market – the entry points, all stalls, information desk etc. Market managers should request stallholders to provide hand sanitizer (or hand wash stations) on their stall.
- Protective masks should be on hand at the first aid station if any market participant is observed to have viral symptoms (coughing etc) These are to be provided as a courtesy to customers/ stallholders that may be exhibiting symptoms.
- Stallholders exhibiting symptoms prior any market day should not attend the market until the symptoms dissipate and the affected person follows self-isolation or medical advice.
- Covid-19 symptoms include (but are not limited to) fever, cough, sore throat, fatigue and shortness of breath. Covid-19 most often begins with a temperature of 37.3 degrees centigrade (99 F) or more and is contagious from the first sign of illness.
- If you are concerned about your health or that of other stallholders or shoppers please contact the market manager, your GP or the Government's 24-hour healthdirect advice line 1800 022 222.
- If you have any reason to believe that a stallholder or a visitor to the site may be exhibiting Covid-19 symptoms, or may have returned from overseas countries, please immediately ask that person to withdraw to a location away from interaction with others, and immediately inform the market manager who may request that person leave the market site.
- For updates please refer to www.health.gov.au/news/health-alerts/novel-coronavirus-2019-ncov-health-alert or contact your respective state health authorities.

ESSENTIAL SERVICES

The government has announced and confirmed that food markets ie farmers markets are considered essential services, as per public transport, supermarkets, medical facilities etc and are permitted to trade mindful of ancillary public safety provisions.

MARKET NUMBERS

The government has amended again and seriously restricted non-essential public gathering numbers. It is to be noted they have not applied these numbers to essential services. However, it is recommended that the following procedures be adopted. One person to do the household shop, and for neighbours or friends in need.

Some markets may need to move stallholders from indoor locations outside and this is recommended where sites offer flexibility.

Markets that regularly attract more than 500 shoppers should be mindful of social distancing at all times. Queue management is recommended.

It is suggested that market managers of larger markets arrange a clicker count at the market entry/ies to monitor numbers of people on site (including stallholders).

If managers need to introduce site access checks to manage total shopper, stallholder and staff within the market perimeter, there are a couple of suggested methods.

- Clicker Count

Count numbers onto/ off site and monitor access to control total number within recommended limits. Ensure any queued shoppers maintain the safe 1.5m distance.

- Timed Shopping

Distribute colour-coded timed wristbands, allowing maximum 30 minutes site access for shopping. This can assist spread any shopper peaks. These will need to be distributed from monitored entry/ exit points.

SITE PLAN

Market managers are requested to review their site plan, and if necessary allow more space between stalls to facilitate social distancing. Install social distancing markers across the market site and at stalls.

SIGNAGE

Install site signage to inform / encourage shoppers of the need to adopt new procedures.

FOOD SAMPLING

All stallholders are requested to cease open food sampling.

PRODUCE SELECTION

Shoppers should not be permitted to touch produce or self-select. Remove all baskets, bowls for self-select unwrapped produce shopping. Install signage to explain new shopping procedures. Pre-bagged produce is recommended, ideally in paper bags or cartons. This will help speed the customer shopping interval.

SHOP n GO/ TAP n GO

Speedy cashless food shopping is encouraged!

SNEEZE GUARDS

Market managers are requested to oversee the compliant installation of sneeze guards at all stalls requiring this protection.

COFFEE CUPS

Market managers are to request that all beverage vendors provide disposable paper (recyclable) cups to mitigate risks. Market coffee stalls supplying 'market day mugs' and onsite wash facilities should cease this practice.

ATM & CASH PAYMENTS

Please encourage use of tap-and-go payments wherever possible. If mobile ATMs are on site, please ensure sanitary cleaning undertaken/ wipes available. Cash transactions can be refined so that customers deposit cash into a cash box with change offered by the stallholder from a separate till. One stallholder only to manage cash.

STALL TRESTLES

Encourage stallholders to replace fabric trestle cloths (hessian etc) with plastic cloths or surfaces that can be sanitised.

COMMUNITY SEATING

Market managers are recommended to remove all community-use tables and chairs for the time being. This is to assist recommended social distancing.

SAFE DISTANCE

Shoppers are requested to keep a safe distance (1.5m) when queuing to purchase food. Stalls should be set up according to the same distancing provisions.

WASTE

Waste management routinely requires the responsible disposal of all food and packaging waste. Market managers should ensure these practices are followed and that waste is not left un-binned on the market site.

TOILETS

Ideally public use porta-loos toilets should be removed or access restricted / the number reduced to minimise risk.

CLEANING

Please request that host venues or market staff undertake rigorous cleaning of on-site toilet and any other shared facilities (storage areas etc).

VOLUNTEERS

Many markets have teams of loyal volunteers for site management. Please ensure they are briefed on all new measures at your market. Please supply them with disposable gloves and ask them to wear aprons, to be washed regularly.

NON-FOOD STALLS

The government provisions to allow the continued trading of farmers markets is based solely on the essential status of food provision. If your market has stalls selling non-food items these stallholders are to be asked to temporarily stop trading at the market to ensure its essential status is maintained. Non-compliance risks closure of the market.

Stalls selling food plants, food seeds and food propagation materials, or small livestock (eg hens) are currently permitted.

ALTERNATIVE FOOD DISTRIBUTION SERVICES

Some farmers markets are developing local produce box schemes/ home delivery or shop online/ collect schemes or mini-market pop-ups collaborating with local farmers to provide fresh food, especially to needy members of their community. More information will be provided on these initiatives when available via the AFMA Facebook page.

UPDATES

The circumstances and public health guidance surrounding safe health practice in relation to Covid-19 are changing frequently. AFMA is monitoring available public information and will post significant developments of the AFMA Facebook page in the first instance. Please like and check posts regularly.

We ask all market managers, stallholders and shoppers to act responsibly to offer maximum common sense reduction of risk at this challenging time. Farmers markets are a fundamental link in our healthy food chain and no more than now should we be eating fresh healthy food. What's more, we need to support our farmers and artisan food producers many of whose livelihoods depend on their weekly trading at farmers markets.

Sell and shop local, sell and shop seasonal and healthy food, sell and shop in the fresh air and – shop with you own trolley!
